Amended Complaint in regards to access to the courts. I (Mona Harrison) as said by the court, did in fact state the date, time and place of said violation of civil rights.

The person who violated these rights was Mr. George O'Connor (Law Librarian). Enclosed is copies of several grievances in regards to the Law Library at this Institution (BWCI). I have an appeal in the courts (Supreme Court) in regards to my sentence. I was at the time of the incident working on my appeal. I put in a letter to Mr. O'Connor personally and asked about him calling me down to find some sort of case laws and to have a legal document notarized. There was more than enough time for him to call me down but, he did not.

I had to go to the Deputy Warden's Secretary to get my legal paper notarized. I should not have had to do that. The Law Library is for that purpose. The Law Library and the person who works there is no help really, to anyone who may have been sentenced before 1990. There is no old case Law available for those who were sentenced before 1990.

However, due to the length of time that has passed by since my initial grievance - they may have gotten them since then. On all the times I went to the Law Library - they did not have any old case laws. My problem was - I wasn't afforded any legal assistance when it was needed. Mr. O'Connor was not able to help in any way.

June 24 2006

Sincerely,
Mara Hanison
